Save the date!! Sunday - Nov 20th (note change!!) Our own Lisa Breslof will once again host a Board of Director's meeting At the Museum of Natural History. This time it will be followed by a tour of the, not yet open, but sure to be fascinating, Darwin Expedition Exhibit. But that isn't all – afterwards we will view the IMAX movie, "Galapagos"

Board meeting 10:30 - 2:00

Darwin Exhibit 2:00 - 3:30

Galapagos IMAX 3:30 - 4:10

You must make a reservation for the Darwin Exhibit and IMAX movie by emailing Lisa at breslof@amnh.org She will send you a confirmation email.

If you want to get prepared you can purchase a great disc of historic Evolution related books for $12.00 go to <http://store.yahoo.com/samizdat/1evolution.html>

It is loaded with txt files of great books on evolution that you can copy, cut or make available to your students. the editor, Richard Seltzer culls books from the free Gutenberg project and places them on CD's in theme sets.

Mark your calendars! The Dec. meeting will be held at the Science Museum of Long Island, on Saturday, Dec. 10 from 2-6 pm.

Following the meeting, people will be able to stay for the holiday lecture and party.

Please join Carl Safina, President of Blue Ocean, in November at two very different speaking engagements.

On November 4th in Riverhead, NY, Carl Safina will be discussing the history of fisheries on both local and global scales. Then, on the 15th, join him and other readers as they pay homage to nature-writer Ellen Meloy with readings from her book, Eating Stone: Imagination and the Loss of the Wild.

"The History and Destiny of Fisheries near Long Island and in the World."
