

Did you know that Atlantis Marine World has the largest all-living coral reef display in all of the Americas?

NYSMEA Atlantis Adventure and Coral Reef Workshop
Saturday, November 17th. 10:30 am to 4:00 pm
Earn a NYSMEA Enrichment Certificate for 3 Hours

The day will begin at 10:30am as we are greeted by Eileen Dugan, Education Enrichment Coordinator, and Joe "Fish" Yaiullo, Curator and Cofounder of Atlantis Marine World, for an exciting day of discovery. You will receive a very informative packet of teacher information to enhance your visit to Atlantis.

11:00am. Joe will be conducting a fascinating Coral Reef Workshop. Learn how this exquisite Living Reef Exhibit at Atlantis was created, and why it is the most challenging community to maintain.

12:00 to 1:30pm you can join us for lunch and our NYSMEA Directors Meeting. Assist us in planning our future activities. We will also hear plans for the upcoming RAW (Regional Aquatics Workshop) to be hosted at Atlantis in 2008.

At 1:30 you will be treated to a guided tour of the Aquarium, including their newest exhibits: Unearthing Atlantis and a beautiful koi habitat. Then get a peek behind-the-scenes at the inner workings of the Aquarium including the coral lab.

At 2:30pm its mammalian behaviors at the sea lion show. Then explore on your own including a stop at the Riverhead Foundation for Marine Research and Preservation exhibit before you visit the City Treasures gift shop for some educational puzzles, games, books or plush props for your classroom.

Cost for the entire Atlantis Enrichment Experience including lunch is $5 for NYSMEA members. If you are a non-member – $20 for the day including lunch and NYSMEA membership.

Please RSVP Eileen at 631-208-9200, ext. 110 or edugan@amwny.com. You can also check out our web site www.atlantismarineworld.com for exhibit information and directions.
