

Dear NRDC Member,

Time is running out. September is upon us, and Congress is about to decide the fate of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge.

That's why we're inviting you to join us in Washington, D.C. for Arctic Refuge Action Day on September 20.

At 11 A.M. on Tuesday, September 20, thousands of concerned citizens will join together on the West Lawn of the U.S. Capitol to tell Congress to keep the Refuge wild and free. After that, we will descend on Capitol Hill. This is your chance to tell your Representative, face-to-face, that you're against drilling the Refuge.

A strong coalition of citizen groups is organizing Arctic Refuge Action Day, and grassroots organizers and volunteer "bus captains" across the country are coordinating the event. Bus captains have already started working with a vast network of on-the-ground activists to help citizens make the trip to our nation's capital, some coming from as far away as Oregon and Alaska.

When you sign up, you can request a ride to D.C. if you need one, find out about mass transit options, or volunteer to be a bus captain if you want to. After you sign up, you'll find out everything you need to know to make your day on Capitol Hill a great success.

Click here to sign up and attend Arctic Refuge Action Day:

http://www.arcticrefugeaction.org/takeaction/araday_nrdcactionfund.html

Please join us in Washington on September 20 and speak out before it's too late.

Best wishes,

Jordan Kessler
Manager, Website and Online Activism
NRDC Action Fund