

NYSMEA Announcements 10/15/05

www.nysmea.org

info@nysmea.org

Catch the pictures of the 05 Conference on the webpage.

This storm was the worst in over 30 years, in that on the south shore of L.I. we had 6 tidal cycles significantly above normal "spring tides" which occur at the full and new moon. Stronger but faster moving hurricanes typically affect only 2 to 3 cycles.

To do some great real time data work with your students go to the three sites below and call up the data from Oct 8-15th. Lou Siegel

<http://ny.water.usgs.gov/rt/pub/01310740new.html> Reynolds Channel

<http://waterdata.usgs.gov/ny/nwis/uv?01302050> Alley Pond Creek, Queens

<http://waterdata.usgs.gov/ny/nwis/uv?01306460> Connetquot River, Oakdale

NOAA's Office of Ocean Exploration will launch the Life on the Edge: Exploring Deep Coral Communities 2005 Expedition on October 16th. Visit <http://oceanexplorer.noaa.gov/explorations/05edge/welcome.html> to access rich education opportunities for teachers, students, and the public to virtually join a team of scientist-explorers as they investigate deep coral communities off the southeastern United States from October 16 - November 4.

Employment opportunity: Parks & Trails New York, an Albany-based statewide non-profit organization that will celebrate its 20th anniversary in 2005, seeks a knowledgeable and energetic Project Director. Details

Save the date!! Nov 19th Our own Lisa Breslof will once again host a Board of Director's meeting at the Museum of Natural History. This time it will be followed by a tour of the, not yet open, but sure to be fascinating, Darwin Expedition Exhibit. But that isn't all – afterwards we will view the IMAX movie, "Galapagos" If you want to get prepared you can purchase a great disc of historic Evolution related books for $12.00 go to <http://store.yahoo.com/samizdat/1evolution.html>

It is loaded with txt files of great books on evolution that you can copy, cut or make available to your students. Richard Seltzer culls books from the Gutenberg project and places them on CD in themed sets.

*Reminders*

Next Board/Conference 06 meeting at the SUNY Stony Brook Marine Sciences Research Center,
5:30pm, Thurs. Nov. 3rd

Directions

Kim Graff will meet the Train at the Stonybrook Station in a blue van at 5:15.
If you are coming by train please call Kim so that she knows to look for you.
Phone: (631) 632-9216 Fax: (631) 632-8216
E-mail: ksz1@cornell.edu (please note - ksz and the number one, not the letter l)

All invited! Get active! We need people for this national event!

Mark your calendars! The Dec. meeting will be held at the Science Museum of Long Island, on Saturday, Dec. 10 from 2-6 pm.
Following the meeting, people will be able to stay for the holiday lecture and party.

Educators' Open House at the New York Aquarium

Sunday Oct. 16, 2005 10 A.M. – 1:00 P.M. in Education Hall Details

Past Announcements

If you do not wish to receive further NYSMEA Announcements – send an email to info@NYSMEA.org and include unsubscribe in the subject line.

WWW.NYSMEA.org