

New York State Marine Education Association

32nd Annual Conference

Sunday, June 8, 2008

8:30am - 4:30pm

"Seafood, Sea Turtles, and a Sea Legacy"

Join us with our host, the American Museum of Natural History, for an enriching experience in marine science.

Featured Guest Speakers

Eugenia Naro-Maciel, Center for Biodiversity and Conservation, AMNH

Richard Ellis, Painter and Author and Joseph Gordon, Conserve Our Ocean Legacy

This day will include:

- Exhibit Tables, Poster Session, and Marine Saltz Expedition Center
- Breakfast and Lunch at the American Museum of Natural History
- Auction and Museum Shops Discount
- Visit to the Milstein Hall of Ocean Life
- IMAX-Dinosaurs
- Educator's Guides for the Milstein Hall of Ocean Life and the Water:H2O = Life Exhibition
- Field Trips to Central Park
- Conference Registration and Membership Renewal (1 year)

Full Day Registration Fee $75.00 includes everything listed above. Breakfast and lunch are only provided for pre-registered attendees. The deadline for pre-registered lunch is June 2. For complete conference information and registration forms, check our website: www.nysmea.org.

Mark your calendars for the conference and encourage colleagues to do the same. The NYSMEA conference is an opportunity for professional development for science educators everywhere and should not be missed. Certificate of Attendance will be provided at the end of the conference.

For Reservations and Questions Contact:

Bob Cummings, Senior Instructor

WCS/New York Aquarium

(718) 265 - 2670

rcummings@wcs.org

NYSMEA

AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY 